

Mike Kipp: Speaker

Transforming Leaders and the Organizations They Lead.

Get Real!

Look to Mike Kipp for grounded, insightful, experience-based perspectives on strategic leadership at your next meeting. Mike's practical and provocative approach is based on real world experience, not the latest theoretical "thought de jour."

Mike is an accomplished Chief Executive Officer and successful entrepreneur with impressive achievements in start-up and turnaround situations. He is a principal in businesses as diverse as ambulatory healthcare, mortgage lending and internet art sales. He speaks from this experience, delivering a message unique in its depth, but universal in its application.

Stay Focused.

Participants leave Mike's program with a clearer focus on the issues they face. They come away challenged to change the rules for their industry and equipped to develop winning strategies. They go forward with a practical understanding that gets results.

Mike will challenge, motivate and inspire your audience with his perspectives on strategic thinking, the management of change and the practice of leadership. He will customize content to your group, providing participants with a rich mix of memorable humor, poetry and story in the process.

Lead with Integrity.

Countless businesses, governmental entities and not-for-profits are plagued by:

- Leaders with short attention spans who destroy value and run off talent;
- Leaders who act like "tomorrow" will be just a later version of "today";
- Leaders with all the answers and none of the questions;
- Leaders who are more taken with their roles than their responsibilities.

Many have never worked through what it means for them to take personal responsibility for collective action. The reality is that leaders exhibit only two characteristics: they have followers and they add value. Mike's message is about how to adopt a more authentic, more inclusive and more reflective style of leading ... a style that not only adds value to the organization, but also to those who are a part of it.

Engaging, enlightening, entertaining and exceptionally effective. Applies a wide variety of approaches to bring a topic to life, ensuring that all participants not only "get it," but have fun doing so.

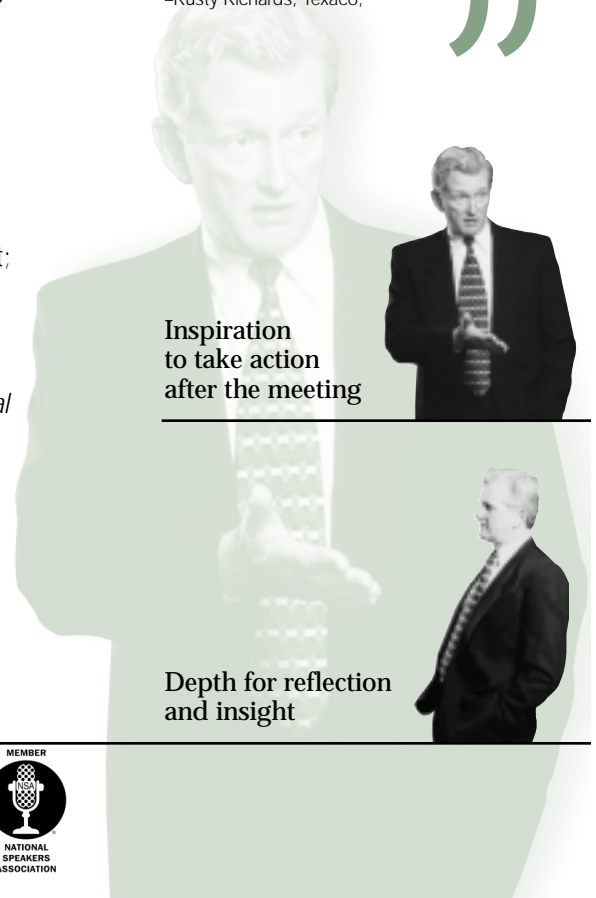

—John Hale, Philip Morris

...highly engaging, thought provoking material served up with warmth and levity. I came away with a conceptual framework that I could apply to my business right away.

—Michael Troy, President, Knowledgepoint

You have raised the bar for future speakers.

—Rusty Richards, Texaco,

Inspiration to take action after the meeting

Depth for reflection and insight

6308 Harding Road • P.O. Box 50826 • Nashville, TN 37205-0826
Phone: 615.356.7355 • Fax: 615.352.2410
mike@kippassoc.com • www.kippassoc.com

